RE: 2010 TCGA Annual Meeting & Cotton Trade Show

In the past decade Texas ginners have met the challenge of ginning record setting crops, but in recent years have faced less favorable weather conditions that have lead to smaller crops. Also, low cotton prices and high grain prices have lead to significant reduction in cotton acres, especially for other areas of the U.S. cotton-belt. As we move into a new decade things are looking up for Texas ginners. An improved cotton price, along with recent rainfall in many areas of the state, point us to having an opportunity for returning to a larger crop like those experienced in the last decade. Thus the theme for this year's show... "Ginning for Success in a New Decade".

In this packet, you will find information on TCGA's 103rd Annual Meeting & Cotton Trade Show including a schedule of events, information on making hotel reservations, golf and domino tournament entry forms and the "Taste of Lubbock" party. It also contains a pre-registration form for you to complete and mail or fax to us so we can have a name badge waiting for you when you arrive at the show. All the entry forms and registration forms are a tear out form. Also, you may register online at www.tcga.org. There is no charge for the event and everyone is invited.

We encourage you to attend the show. It is a chance for you, your employees and customers to see the latest in ginning technology and to meet others in the industry to discuss important issues and the latest trends. This is an opportunity for you to educate company directors, stockholders, and other key personnel on the role you as a ginner play in the industry. See how your operation fits in with industry's latest developments.

Do not let this chance pass you by. Come help us celebrate this 103rd gathering of cotton ginners by attending the 2010 TCGA Annual Meeting & Cotton Trade Show. Please call the TCGA office if you have any questions or if you need more information regarding the show. You may also visit www.tcga.org.
